Director,

As part of our mandate to continue to monitor the failed, feeble, idiotic practices of your department in your so called protocols of home surveillance dealing with the Powell children, we are continuing to bring to your attention the failure of your methods.

The Powell girls are forced to leave their home every weekend while Scott Powell visits his girl friend, Dawn. The girls are told “find someplace to stay”, so that the camera placed by your offices does not show that the girls are home alone. Scott Powell uses the cameras to spy on the girls, frighten and intimidate them while he is away from home and they are present mid week, when he comes and goes, suggesting some parental authority being present. The sham of “good behavior” relative household calm is the same level of sham as your expertise in risk assessment or diagnostic evaluation.

As I am sure that you will inform your chain of command, informing Tim Welch and Ethel Moore to scurry around and check up on Scott – we will be watching Tim Welch getting in touch with Scott Powell and his legal minions, threatening the girls, trying to figure out who to sue, who to threaten and intimidate to attempt to impose silence.

The Press and Media are watching you, everything you do, every inane statement and we will continue to be reporting on this case and all the moving parts.

Jill Jones-Soderman
